Summary

Digital Pathology Partners is a flexible histology reporting service set up to help the NHS cope with 3% pa growth and an ageing histopathologist workforce.

Our model recognises that many pathologists would like to undertake additional work, or work part-time in retirement, but do not wish to travel to be a locum.

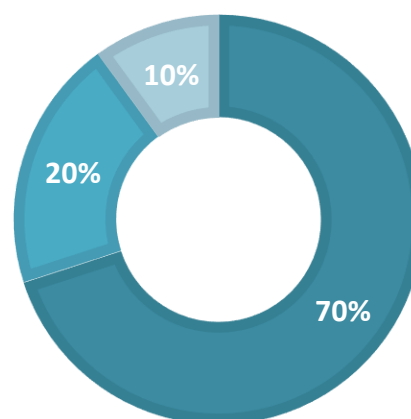

The founders are familiar with the four main competitors and have recognised an opportunity to streamline processes, reduce costs, improve quality for NHS customers, and improve job satisfaction for the pathologists.

Successful pilots were undertaken pre-Covid. Demand is now growing as the NHS seeks to reduce waiting lists.
